

PDD is November 4th!

What makes a leader resilient? How can we learn to lead teams and projects through constant change and chaos? How can we stay connected to our inner purpose - our why - as we handle crises? At our 2022 Professional Development Day, Adam White will help us answer those questions and more. Join us for an inspiring, educational day and earn 7 PDUs!

Adam White is not just a speaker, he's an experience. He is a national and international best-selling author. He's provided expert advice to over 300 organizations. He is continually praised for his ability to ignite leaders and inspire organizations to accelerate growth. Society of Government Meeting Professionals named him, "The best speaker they had ever heard."

Professional Development Day is in person at CenterPlace with breakfast, lunch, and snacks from the wonderful Le Catering included in the event price.
